

Muhammad Ali Ma'ruf

Test submitted on: 25/07/2025
Institution: Parahyangan Catholic University

Current capabilities

The student has a good control and understanding of basic structures and functions. They can generally understand straightforward factual texts on familiar topics. They can skim and scan a short text. They can follow familiar topics if the speaker is clear and avoids idiomatic usage. They can maintain a straightforward description or narration using linking words and devices. They can convey simple information of immediate relevance and emphasise the main point. They can write straightforward connected text on routine factual information or topics which are familiar and of personal interest.

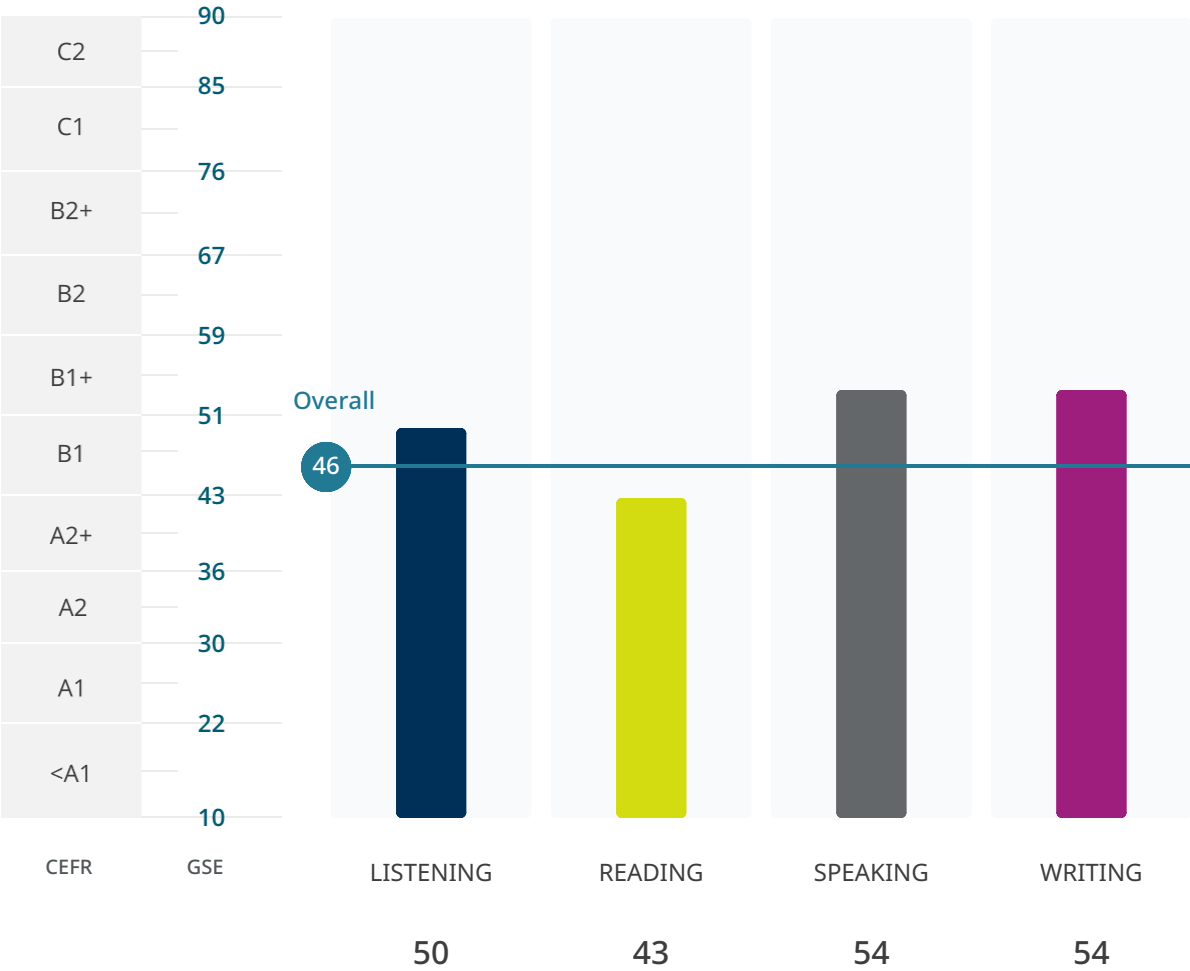

Please note your overall score assesses your English proficiency across all skills displayed on this report as well as enabling skills such as Grammar and Vocabulary. This explains why your overall score is not an average of your individual skills scores.

OVERALL SCORE

46

CEFR: B1

Scores for each skill

Listening: 50

PERFORMANCE SUMMARY

The student can understand language relating to a range of topics. They can understand some details in extended dialogues/narratives on familiar everyday topics. They are beginning to understand main information from explanations on unfamiliar topics.

RECOMMENDED ACTIVITIES

Give the student exposure to simple authentic texts and provide support in identifying formal and informal speech, facts and opinions. Encourage students to listen to e.g. podcasts/TV programmes in English outside the classroom.

SUGGESTED GSE LEARNING OBJECTIVES

Can follow the linear structure of a short formal talk.

Can follow most of an everyday conversation if speakers avoid very idiomatic usage.

Can understand the main points of narratives and conversations about familiar topics (e.g. work, leisure) delivered in clear standard speech.

Reading: 43

PERFORMANCE SUMMARY

The student can generally understand straightforward factual texts on familiar topics. They are efficient at making basic predictions about factual text content from headings, titles or headlines and can derive the probable meaning of simple unknown words from short, familiar contexts.

RECOMMENDED ACTIVITIES

The student should aim to read a wider variety of text types and continue to develop meaning-guessing and prediction strategies. Get them to read a text and use the linking words in the text to identify the connections between phrases. Give them a text and ask them to make basic predictions about the content from headings, titles or headlines.

SUGGESTED GSE LEARNING OBJECTIVES

Can generally understand straightforward factual texts on familiar topics.

Can scan short texts to locate specific information.

Can skim a short text to identify its main purpose.

Speaking: 54

PERFORMANCE SUMMARY

The student can talk generally about matters of personal information and interest in some detail. They can communicate using longer stretches of connected clauses and functional language (e.g. compare /contrast; reasons/explanation). Can use a range of words and structures and collocations. Can use functional language to deal with unfamiliar everyday topics but has a limited range of complex language.

RECOMMENDED ACTIVITIES

Develop activities designed to encourage students to give and ask about opinions on various topics without too much preparation. For instance, class debates looking at different sides of an argument, or giving opinions on possible solutions to a problem.

SUGGESTED GSE LEARNING OBJECTIVES

Can re-tell a familiar story using their own words.

Can express opinions and attitudes using a range of basic expressions and sentences.

Can express opinions as regards possible solutions, giving brief reasons and explanations.

Writing: 54

PERFORMANCE SUMMARY

The student can write simple structured essays organising basic ideas. They can write a description of a real or imagined event, a simple review of a film, book or TV programme using a limited range of language and short simple biographies of (real or imaginary) people. Can use limited discourse devices and common connectors and clearly signal chronological sequence in a narrative text.

RECOMMENDED ACTIVITIES

Introduce complex structures and support students in practising using these writing about different topics, including telling a story, writing an informational brochure, and describing an event.

SUGGESTED GSE LEARNING OBJECTIVES

Can use common connectors to tell a story or describe an event in writing.

Can write a simple, structured informational leaflet/brochure, given a model.

Can clearly signal chronological sequence in narrative text.